FARMINGTON BOY HONORED

Philip Pipkin Picked for All-Missouri Football Team by Globe-Democrat's Football Expert.

Philip Pipkin, who played left half back this year on the Carleton College football team, has been selected by the sporting editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat as left half back on the All-Missouri eleven. Philip has played football here for a number of years and has always been considered to be the best and hardest player on the various teams he has been connected with, being particularly strong on defensive work. His many friends will be glad to know that his ability has at last been recognized. Coach E. B. Coehens of St. Louis University, when here last month, said Pipkin was easily one of the best defensive half backs playing to-day in the West. The Globe says: "Pipkin has the other backs so far outclassed that he is really in a class all to himself. Pipkin has been playing football for a number of years, having formerly been a member of the West Point team. He also was a member of the Gem City Business College, which team visited St. Louis some three or four years ago and defeated Christian Brothers College. Pipkin has since been playing the game at Farmington."

PHILIP H. PIPKIN.

The All-Missouri team follows:

Driver	Missouri	Left End
Lamb	St. Louis	Left Tackle
Miller	Missouri	Left Guard
Lindsay	St. Louis	Center
Hughes	St. Louis	Right Guard
Graves	Missouri	Right Tackle
Deatherage	Missouri	Quarter Back
